beetle bailey
by mort walker

1 CAN YOU LEND ME A DOLLAR, SARGE? SORRY, BEETLE. OUR STOMACHS HAVE PLANS FOR EVERY CENT I'VE GOT.

2 I HATE TO SPEND THE LAST OF MY OWN MONEY. THEN I'D BE TILL PAYDAY. ME TOO. BUT I NEED A MILKSHAKE AND A HAMBURGER IN THE WORST WAY.

3 NOBODY'S DUMB TO LEND US MONEY. THAT'S IT! LET'S GO FIND ZERO!

4 THERE HE IS... BUT WHAT IS HE DOING? LOOKS LIKE HE'S TRYING TO WRITE SOME PHILOSOPHICAL GRAFFITI! YOU WRITE.

5 ZERO WRITING PHILOSOPHY?! HAI HAI! I GOTTA SEE THIS! THIS OUGHTA BE FUNNY!

6 Want a better world? Pet a dog. Plant a flower. Smile at the bus driver. Smile at a stranger. Go barefoot. Pick up someone else's litter. Look for funny shapes in the clouds. Visit an old person. Stop an argument. Warm a heart.

7 Call up an old friend. Wash a window. Take an ordinary object and find beauty in it. Show a child how to whistle. Think of three good things about the person you are with - and tell him. Forgive a mistake. Do what someone else wants to do today. Be patient.

8 Put yourself in another's place. Say "thank you" with meaning. Look for truth. Inspire someone. Lower your voice. Make time for a young person. Let your kindness Erase worry and fear of the unknown. Have some fun. I COULDN'T THINK OF ANYTHING VERY GREAT.

9 FOR ME?!

Instrução: As questões 65 a 75 estão relacionadas ao texto abaixo.

01. New Dehli's Paharganj rail station is
02. humming with sound and crawling with
03. people. The gray platforms are bathed in
04. white light. The train engines belch smoke
05. and whistle like impatient bulls.
06. If you were to search for me in the
07. crowded maze, where would you look? You
08. would probably try to find me among the
09. dozens of street children who are stretched
10. out on the smooth concrete floor in various
11. stages of rest and slumber. You might even
12. imagine me as an adolescent vendor,
13. peddling plastic bottles containing tap water
14. from the station's toilet as pure Himalayan
15. mineral water. You could visualize me as one
16. of the sweepers in dirty shirts and torn pants
17. shuffling the platform, with a long
18. swishing broom transferring dirt from the
19. pavement the track. Or you could look
20. for me among the regiments of red-
21. uniformed porters bustling about with heavy
22. loads on their heads.
23. Well, think again, because I am neither a
24. vendor, nor porter, nor sweeper. Today I am

25. a genuine passenger, travelling to Mumbai, in
26. the sleeper class no less, and with a proper
27. reservation. I am wearing a starched white
28. bush shirt made 100% cotton and Levi's
29. jeans-yes, Levi's jeans, bought from the
30. Tibetan Market. I am walking purposefully
31. platform number five to board the
32. Paschim Express for Mumbai. There is a
33. porter trudging along by my side carrying a
34. light-brown suitcase on his head. The porter
35. has been hired by me, and the suitcase on his
36. head belongs to me. The suitcase does not
37. contain any money. I have heard too many
38. stories about robbers on trains that drug you
39. at night and make off with your belongings to
40. take the chance of keeping the most precious
41. cargo of my life-my salary from the Taylors-in
42. my suitcase. It is inside my underwear. I take
43. a quick look the loose notes in my front
44. pocket. I reckon I will have just enough to
45. take an auto-rickshaw from Bandra Terminus
46. to Salim's room in the Ghatkopar slum. Won't
47. Salim be surprised to see me arrive in a
48. three-wheeler instead of on the local train?
49. And when he sees the game I bought for
50. him, I hope he doesn't faint from happiness.
