

DEMOCRATIC PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF KOREA

United Nations Security Council

COUNTRY REPORT

Topic: General issues relating to sanctions – The case of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea

For this meeting, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) will be directly implied in the discussion, since the topic concern about sanctions, especially in our case. Our objective is to relieve all embargos that we have been suffering, without lose our nuclear program, because it is our government goal to keep our country independent from the western imperialism.

Since we have been victims of these sanctions, we had to look out for others ways to continue our development program. Going further, we invested in infrastructure, energy and agriculture. We understand the difficulties of economic growth and its impacts. Despite the sanctions, we have been capable of providing good conditions of life to our people, leading us to conclude that our policies are doing well.

Since the first embargo in 2006, we have seeking bilateral partnerships as well as a steady role and presence in multilateral forums, in order to show the international community they have a misconception regarding our country; there is no need to classify us as an "evil country". Indeed we still believe in one Korea and our central objective as a State will always be to achieve it. And, for this reason, we are not giving up on our nuclear program.

For this session of United Nations Security Council, our country intents to ally with Asian states, which understand our way to do politics and respect our culture. Our country does not see western countries as rivals; however, we will not accept more of these condemnations. Just because in one's State one thing is considered wrong, it does not mean such value judgment is universal.

Amabilly Bonacina

AMABILLY BONACINA

Delegate of Democratic People's Republic of Korea